

Youth Apostles
TRUTH, FREEDOM, AND CARE

Brand Guide

This Brand Guide has been established with the goal of maintaining the integrity and consistency of the Youth Apostles name. This guide serves to inform communications made by Youth Apostles both internally and externally.

Our brand reflects the Youth Apostles mission, values, and charism. In establishing this, we are creating a cohesive identity that builds trust and strengthens our connections with all of our partner ministries, dioceses, and donors. Maintaining consistency across all of our communications is essential for preserving this identity and being good stewards of our reputation.

If you are planning on sending out something on behalf of (or representing) Youth Apostles, please run it through the Director of Communications before sharing it.

If you have questions about usage, please email them to the Director of Communications, communications@youthapostles.org.

Who We Are

Youth Apostles is a Catholic community founded with the ultimate purpose of inspiring youth to a Christ-like life based on the Lord's sacrificial love. It is composed of single, married, and consecrated laymen, and consecrated clerics, who are united by a commitment to a deep spiritual life, strong communal life, and common apostolic service to youth.

Spirituality We live a deep spiritual life centered on the Eucharist, nourished by prayer and the Sacrament of Penance, strengthened by the Evangelical Counsels, and inspired by Mary's radical Yes.

Community We live a strong communal life as one family, composed of different kinds of members, united by a common call, in a spirit of openness and care.

Ministry We inspire youth to live Christ-like lives by reaching out to them in love, modeling a Christian way of life, drawing them to the Church which is their home, and forming youth communities based on the ultimate values of truth, freedom, and care.

Youth Apostles was founded in 1979 in the Diocese of Arlington, Virginia. The community was established by the Bishop of Arlington as a Public Association of the Christian Faithful within the Catholic Church on September 8, 1989, the Feast of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Our Ultimate Values

Care - Loving concern for others that flows from a warm heart

Truth - Faithfulness to Christ and His Church, and openness with one another

Freedom - Total giving in imitation of Mary's radical Yes

Youth Apostles Prayer

Dear Lord, we no longer want to live for ourselves but for you.

Strengthen us through the Eucharist, and fill our community with your love, that we may be faithful to the Truth and live in truth.

Help us to be always aware of Mary's commitment of total giving.

Let her example be the basis for our ministry, that we may become salt of the earth to bring flavor to your word, and light of the world to guide the youth with your light which shines through us.

To give, Lord, until we have no more to offer, and to be examples to all we touch.

Logo Symbolism

The Youth Apostles has maintained many of its original elements that it contained at the inception of the community in 1979. The man, taking the shape of the initials of Youth Apostles, is rich in symbolism which shares the charism of the community.

The Flames

Flames flowing from each hand symbolize the call to be “light of the world”. This stems from a deep recognition of the Spirit working through us, guiding our work with young people.

Outstretched Arms

“Christ’s compassionate love for others impels us to reach out and actively touch the lives of young people” (General Statutes of the Youth Apostles Institute 1.11).

The Stole

The stole signifies our promise to common apostolic service to young people, which is poured out from the Eucharist at the center.

The Head

The head is white to resemble Jesus in the Eucharist, giving guidance as the central part of the community, as we are “strengthened through the Eucharist.”

Marian Blue

Surrounded in the embrace of Mary, Help of Christians, the Marian Blue reminds us of our promise to imitate Mary’s example of her radical yes to the Lord in our mission to serve the youth unconditionally.
